Gibson Canyon Offered As Site For St. John's

Tonight, a group of Carmel Highlands property owners will meet with Dr. Richard Weigle, president of St. John's College, Annapolis, Maryland, to discuss the Marx property in Gibson Canyon as a site for St. John's west coast campus.

The meeting will take place at the home of William K. Stewart, president of the Carmel Highlands Association, its purpose, to discover the reaction of the neighboring property owners to the proposed development of the site for college purposes.

The Highlanders guard rigidly their residential zoning and some of the property owners question relaxing it for any purpose.

The land has been offered as a gift to the college by the owners, Herman, Agnes and Andrew Marx, provided the stand of rare Gowen dwarf cypress on the land be preserved.

The Marx family learned last year that St. John's College was looking for a western campus through Mark Goldes, founder of Emerson College in Pacific Grove. They asked Don Thompson, their business manager to communicate with Linden Leavitt Jr., dean of the evening division of Monterey Peninsula College, who is also interested in the St. John's College western campus project.

On the invitation of Mr. Leavitt, Dr. Weigle came to the Peninsula in November and visited the Carmel Highlands site, proposed as a gift to the college if the natural beauty and flora of the land were preserved.

Dr. Weigle, verbally and in writing, affirmed that St. John's College would meet the Marx require-

Library Now Has Complete Microfilm File Of Pine Cone

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

The Harrison Memorial Library announces that the filming of the Pine Cone is now complete from February 1915 through 1959. The papers for 1960 are now being gathered and will be sent to the filming company in the near future. From now on, at the end of each year, the papers will be assembled in their proper order and sent away for filming.

Newspapers are filmed as are any other type of photographic work, with a negative and a positive print. This work was done by the Micro-Photo Company of Cleveland, Ohio. In their fire proof vaults the negatives are kept on file and the positive films are sent to the organization ordering the filming. In case of fire or accident to the positives in our library, another copy can be ordered and thus the file can be kept intact.

The entire project was done with the cooperation of the California State Library which had already filmed sections of the Pine

Top Golfers, Entertainers Tee Off Today For Bing's 4-Day Charity Clambake

With 300 of the best professional and amateur golfers in the business spraying shots over the three golf courses in the Del Monte Forest, the Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur golf tournament gets underway today and runs for four days until the big windup at Pebble Beach on Sunday. All the golfers will get a chance to tour the three courses as they rotate from Cypress Point to Pebble Beach and the Country Club. Sunday's finals for the top 50 teams plus ties and pros still in contention will be played at Pebble Beach.

Ken Venturi, winner of last year's Crosby, has been on the Peninsula for the past week preparing to make a successful defense of his crown. Venturi, an alumnus of Fort Ord, toured the Cypress layout in 68 in a recent outing and appears to be in top form for the Crosby. Former winners of the Crosby Pro-Am, Cary Middlecoff (1955-56), Bill Casper Jr. (1958), and Art Wall Jr. (1959), will be on hand to make another run at the title. Sure to be a gallery favorite is Arnold Palmer, Golfer of the Year in 1960 and recent winner of the San Diego Open. Author of syndicated articles on golf as it should be played, Arnold will be closely watched by his readers to see whether his swing coincides with his words. Bob Goalby, winner of this year's Los Angeles Open and top money winner last year, is given a good chance to pick up most of the blue chips in this yeear's Crosby. The former Ohio State all-around athlete has all the qualifications to face the challenges offered by the three Del Monte Forest courses and he is

There have been several daylight robberies in Carmel and on the Point in the past two weeks, according to Police Sergeant William Ellis. The thieves have walked into unlocked homes, carried off such items as transistor radios, cameras, watches, piggie banks, wallets containing larger sums of money, and packs of cigarettes.

Until the thieves are caught, the police department suggests that Carmelites lock their doors when they leave their homes even for a short period of time. Also, it would be helpful if neighbors seeing strangers entering a house would notify the police.

It is hard for Carmelites to change their easy-going habits, but for the present at least, a general lock-up is advised.

Honor Orchestra, Choir To Perform Here, January 28

On January 28 Carmel will be the location for Honor Orchestra and Honor Choir performances, according to John Farr, Carmel High School music instructor. The two groups, composed of selected students from 11 high schools in Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey counties, will perform for the public in Sunset Auditorium.

Ronald Ondrejka, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, will direct the orchestra. The choir will be directed by Jester Hairston of Los Angeles, for 13 years leader of the Hall Johnson Choir, also an actor and composer. Three of his choral compositions will be sung by the Honor Choir in Carmel.

The Honor Orchestra will have 75 players; the Honor Choir 175 voices. A charge of 50 cents will be made for the performances. This small amount is to cover expenses, Mr. Farr reports.

City To Invite Bids On Liability Insurance

Last night the Carmel City Council decided to call for bids for comprehensive liability insurance for the city.

They will delay for the present considering partial or entire city self insurance, but will re-study it if the bids do not offer a substantial reduction in the premium the city now pays its present carrier.

This action is in accordance with the recommendations of the committee on administration, made up of Mayor Frank Putnam and Councilman John Chitwood, and findings emobdied in an 18

Planning Commission Says "No" To Neumann's Petition For Rezoning

Planning commissioners, yesterday afternoon, voted unanimously against reclassifying to commercial use a triangular block of residential property bounded by Ocean Avenue, Mountain View Avenue and Torres Street. The land belongs to Willard L. Neumann who requested the reclassification in order to construct residential apartments on the site.

The denial came after a public hearing during which 15 persons opposed the reclassification and only two persons, Patricia Hall and Alta Jensen, supported Mr. Neumann's request. Paul F. West presented to commissioners two petitions, one was signed by 15 persons in the area affected by the reclassification and stated that they wished to withdraw their names from a petition favoring the rezoning circulated by Mr. Neuman. The second petition, signed by 36 persons, opposed the reclassification.

Commissioners based their decision against the rezoning on evidence presented during the hearing which showed that any increases in size of the present commercial zone is not acceptable to the citizens, as phrased by Commission Chairman Herbert Blanks.

Those who spoke against the rezoning were Victor Velissaratos, Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher, Paul F. West, Conrad Imelman, Margaret McCarthy, Ethelinda James, Herbert Heron, George R. Walker, Rose Crumrine, Rose Hudson, Wilma Cook, James C. Pruitt, Lieutenant Colonel Austin De Camp, Grayce McKay and Steven Sassoon.

Victor Velissaratos stated that any reclassification of the Neumann land for commercial use would be spot zoning and create a chaotic condition by starting an avalanche of requests for similar rezoning of residential property for apartment use on the periphery of the business zone. He also stressed the traffic hazard of such development on the Neumann land situated at the foot of the Ocean Avenue hill.

Admiral Fisher, president of the Citizens Committee, stated that

GILROY HIGH HOOP SQUADS AT CARMEL FRIDAY NIGHT

Six win streaks go on the line at the Carmel High gym this Friday night when the Gilroy High Mustangs clash in a basketball triple-header with the rampaging Padres. The Gilroy varsity, jayvee, and lightweight squads are undefeated in league play and the Carmel varsity and junior-varsity has yet to taste defeat against league opposition. The surging Carmel lightweight team is working on a two-game win skein and would like to add the undefeated Gilroy lights to the string.

First action starts off at 5:30 with the jayvee clubs taking their shots. Coach Lawitzke plans to open the action with forwards Pete Morse and Bob Palma; guards Rick Baldwin and Barry Sherman; and center Jim Kelley. The lightweights take the spotlight at 7:00 o'clock with Carmel's starters likely to be Jose Fernandez, Ted Leidig, Steve Johnson, Bob Moffatt, and Jack DeWitt. Carmel's starters in the 8:15 varsity game will be Chris and John Wilkin, Mike Draper, Scott Forbes and Jim Brown.

PADRE CAGERS WIN TRIPLE-HEADERS FROM HOLLISTER AND PACIFIC GROVE

Carmel High's basketball squads enjoyed a tremendously successful weekend of the hardwood sport at the expense of Hollister and Pacific Grove, winning a total of six games in Friday and Saturday night's play. The ambitious Padre hoopsters set the stage for their big wins at Pacific Grove by clipping the Haybalers in the friendly confines of the Carmel gym. Coach Harold Lippstreau's lightweights broke an eight game losing streak as they finished in front of the Hollister lights, 40 to 26, the Padre jayvees won theirs, 40 to 27, and the Carmel varsity got the job done, 40 to 37.

Teddy Leidig and Jose Fernandez sparked the lightweights to their first win of the season, each hitting 9 points and playing steady floor games while notching the win. Excellent rebounding by Steve Johnson and Jack DeWitt served to give the Little Padres ball control throughout most of the contest. The tight Carmel defense blanked the Hayseeds during the first quarter and allowed them only 2 points in the entire first half.

Coach Dick Lawitzke's junior-varsity continued its winning ways despite a fine 14-point scoring effort by Hollister's Steve Green. With big Jim Kelley again showing the way, the Padre jayvees piled up a 14-5 lead in the first quarter and maintained a comfortable lead all the way. Kelley hit five field goals to lead the Padre scorers and was given good scoring support by Rick Baldwin and Bob Palma.

Hollister's varsity gave the Big Padres a good tussle before dropping a close decision to the league-leaders. Led by senior Lloyd Mefferd (12 points), the Haybaler varsity was down 22-18 at the half, closed the gap to 30-28 at the end of the third quarter, but couldn't hold off the Padres during the final heat. Scott Forbes put on some fine clutch shooting in the fourth quarter to pull it out for the Padres. Forbes (11), Chris Wilkin (10), and Mike Draper (10) were the top scorers for Carmel and all three turned in fine floor games.

Carmel's coveted triple-header win over Pacific Grove saw the underdog lightweights set a good example as they upset the highly-regarded PG lights, 38 to 28. Accuracy at the free-throw line paid off for the Little Padres as they cashed in on 18 free throws. Jose Fernandez (9) and Teddy Leidig (8) were Carmel's leading scorers in the big win. Tenacious defensive play paid off big for the Carmel lights as their pressing defense forced the Little Breakers into making numerous wild passes.

Saturday night's junior-varsity tilt was strictly no-contest as the Padres jumped into an early lead and never looked back. Pete Morse (15) and Bob Palma (14) showed the way for the Red and Gray scorers in their 55-39 victory. Morse and Jim Kelley dominated play at both backboards and were defensive standouts for Coach Lawitzke's crew.

A slow start nearly betrayed the Carmel varsity as it dropped behind 16-7 in the first quarter and was on the short end of a 29-25 halftime score. The Breakers still had the upper hand at 44-36 going into the final period, but they couldn't withstand the torrid 23-point fourth quarter dished out by the frantic Padres. A fine 27-point scoring effort by Pacific Grove's Dennis Hunt kept the Breakers in the game all the way and it took some tremendous shooting by Chris Wilkin (19), Scott Forbes (18), and Mike Draper (15), to counter Hunt's sterling individual efort. Forbes came up with a hot hand in the fourth heat, hitting for 10 points when the chips were down and the Padres were battling from behind.

Big game of the season faces the Padres this Friday night when the Gilroy Mustangs pay a visit to the Padre pavillion for a triple-header. Both varsities are undefeated in league play and tomorrow night's showdown will just about point to the best team in the CCAL B-division.

Swan To Give Benefit Performance For Church Of Religious Science

Mackey Swan of Carmel, Monterey Peninsula baritone, will give a benefit concert January 29, at 8:30 o'clock at the Wharf Theatre (formerly Monterey Theatre), 217 Alvarado Street, Monterey. He will be accompanied at the piano by his wife Lyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan have lived in the Carmel area for about eight years, since they moved here from Los Angeles to open a vocal and piano studio. He was soloist for four years with the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel. For the past three years he has been soloist for the Monterey Peninsula Church of Religious Science. He has sung with the Monterey Symphony.

Mr. Swan was born in Kobe, Japan, and received his early education in Tokyo, Kyoto, and elsewhere in the Orient. Later he attended Temple University, Philadelphia, where he majored in art and sculpturing while studying music and voice privately. After college he was under contract two years with the Philadelphia Opera Company, where he sang eleven roles including Germont in Traviata and Silvio in Pagliacci.

His musical background includes two years with the Borscht Circuit, which is the training ground for many artists. He won two important eastern auditions, one with the New York City Music Hall, the other with the Chicago Opera Company, but a five-year period of military service prevented his accepting the contracts offered. Following his military duty he went to Los Angeles, where he coached with Madame Amelita Galli-Curci's accompanist husband.

While in Los Angeles, he was a member of the vocal faculty of the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and Arts for four years, and his wife was a teacher in the piano department. During his teaching career he gave concerts and sang in operas at the Los Angeles Conservatory, and upon invitation appeared as soloist with the Bach Festival in Carmel. In addition to his concert and opera work, he has sung oratorio.

His specialty and favorite type of singing is German Lieder, and his concert program of January 29 will include a group of Lieder.

Proceeds from the concert will go to the Building Fund of the Monterey Peninsula Church of Religious Science.

shooting a top stick at the present time.

Pro Bud Ward and amateur Bob Silvestri, winners of the 1960 pro-amateur segment of the Crosby, are again together as a team and anxious to repeat their outstanding performance of last year. A pair of fellow Bay Area shot-makers, Ken Venturi and Harvey Ward, were close to the Ward-Silvestri duo last year and rate an excellent chance to top the field in this year's pro-am division.

While golf is the name of the game, galleryites need not be familiar with the links sport to enjoy themselves at the Crosby Clambake. The Crosby is loaded with colorful celebrities from all walks of life and some of them shoot pretty good golf. From the entertainment field, taking their swings for charity and trying to help their pro partners, are Jim Garner, Tennessee Ernie Ford, George Gobel, Guy Madison, Richard Arlen, Phil Harris, Gordon MacRae, Fred MacMurray, Buddy Rogers, Johnny Weissmuller, and Dennis O'Keefe. Baseball fans will recognize San Francisco Giant manager Alvin Dark, Dick Groat, Bob Lemon, Jackie Jensen, Bill Rigney, Mickey Mantle, and Ralph Kiner. Former top gridders and coaches playing as amateurs are Red Hickey, Frank Albert, Tom Harmon, Bob Reynoles, Ernie Nevers, Duffy Daugherty, Pete Elliott, Frank Brunk, Julie Bescos, Marshall Dufield, and pro John Brodie. One of the most popular and talented boxers of all time, Jimmy McLarnin, will be back for another go at the Crosby. Jimmy is a charter member of the Crosby Tournament and one of the most popular amateurs in the field.

Tickets for the tournament may be secured from any of Bud Giles' hard-working ticket crew stationed at all the gates entering Del Monte Forest.

Director Jack Giles and his hustling Carmel Youth Center gang will have well-stocked snack bars at the Country Club and Pebble Beach courses. Donations from the Crosby Tournaments paid for enlarging the Carmel Youth Center Auditorium, and the youngsters help to maintain the center by manning the food concessions at the tournament.

HONORS CARMEL STUDENTS

A bulletin from the University of California this week announces that five last June graduates of Carmel High School have been awarded Honors at Entrance on the Berkeley campus. They are John Durein, Frank Palmer, Mary Ann Purvis, Patricia Giarratana and Elizabeth van Loben Sels. The announcement came from James C. Stone, acting associate director of admissions, and Lea Van P. Miller, chairman of the committee on undergraduate scholarships and honors. The Carmel students are among 507 freshmen awarded the honors from a class of 3,843 freshmen. They earned A's in all but one of the high school subjects on which admission is based.

Citizens Committee To Report On Civic Activities For 1960 At Annual Meeting Monday Night

Carmel Citizens Committee, at their town meeting Monday night, 8:00 o'clock, Sunset Cafeteria, will present the annual report of the executive committee, elect nominating committee for new officers and directors, hear a talk by Daniel Garcia about his Seventeen Minute Walk and discuss central district zoning, and scenic protection of Highway No. 1. The organization welcomes attendance by the general public.

The annual report, to be presented by Admiral C. W. Fisher, chairman of the executive committee:

The Carmel Citizens Committee during 1960, the second year of its existence, has been active in the following ways:

We have endeavored to stimulate citizen interest and participation in our City government. Our members attended the meetings of the City Council and the Planning Commission. Expressed our views at these meetings and otherwise in writing on matters affecting our objectives. Our members have spoken at many meetings of the County Supervisors and the County Planning Commission on such matters as favoring the Green Belt, opposing billboards, against trailer courts in Carmel Valley and against down-zoning the Community Hospital site.

Advocated the Pine Inn parking lot as a guide for future parking lots; worked for trees on Junipero Street between Third and Eighth Avenues; advocated purchase of the Torres Street lots looking towards a possible Civic Center.

Assisted in bringing to a head the adoption of our General Plan (residential area) and the revision of the Central District Zoning Ordinance. With other groups and individuals, succeeded in having deleted from the Zoning Ordinance certain objectionable uses listed for the "C" zones. Worked, and are still working to keep Carmel business buildings down to a reasonable size, and to set termination dates on Variances and Use Permits when desirable.

We prepared and mailed to all Carmel voters a non-partisan chart and summary of the stand and views of all candidates for City Councilmen in the 1960 election. We were publicly and officially thanked for this, and our other efforts in the public interest, by the first resolution passed by the new council at its first meeting.

We have membership on the Core Committee of the Area Planning Commission, and consistently stress the importance of preserving the individual characteristics of the various Peninsula communities. Our policy has been to support organizations and constructive measures to preserve our forests, beaches, ocean frontage and other natural and aesthetic values.

We obtained the backing of the California State Automobile Association for the preservation of the scenic beauty of State Route No. 1 south of Carmel and established friendly relations with Messrs. Owings and Roosevelt et al of Big Sur, who are developing a comprehensive zoning plan to protect Route No. 1 from exploitation.

We have had good newspaper publicity, and excellent relations with official bodies and the public. We have been recognized as helping to crystallize public opinion. Individual Councilmen have expressed satisfaction at hearing citizen sentiments even when they could not agree. We are consulted frequently by members and non-members on all sorts of matters.

page study and report by City Clerk Larry Rose and City Attorney John Morse.

The council was stung to action in July when they learned that the city's premium for 1960-61 would be $23,034. In 1955 it was a little over $7,000.

The city clerk's and attorney's analysis of premiums paid by the city in relation to claims paid by the insurance company from 1955 to 1960 shows a profit to the insurance company of 52 percent.

"Cariers expect to lose between 52 and 65 percent of every premium dollar paid for public liability coverage. On the basis of the annual loss of $6,543 the premium currently being charged should be somewhere between $10,066 and $12,583" the report summarizes.

The city's present premium is double that amount.

Emerald Bay is one of the great beauty spots in California. The view of it from the present high level road is famous. From that height one can see the curve of its pine fringed shore-line and get the full effect of its incredibly blue water.

To run a bridge across any portion of Emerald Bay would be the equivalent of capturing Yosemite Falls to turn dynamos.

Fleisher Shows Mastery As Mozart Interpreter

By EBEN WHITTLESEY

Last Saturday evening the Carmel Music Society presented a young man whose pianistic achievements have received distinguished recognition both here and abroad. Leon Fleisher possesses not only the technical polish and pianistic skill common to many of the ranking products of our major music schools today, but also a mature and thoughtful interpretive insight. His art is not noticeable for showmanship, and his style is one in which dramatic and emotional qualities are subordinated to technique and tone quality.

The program opened with the Mozart Sonata in C Major, Opus 330. The artist's touch was light and vibrant, his manner warm and romantic rather than showy. The slow movement was eloquent and deliberate, without ever losing its continuity. The freshness, enthusiasm and joy that are inherent in this work were achieved to the full without any lack of firmness. The last movement was light, fleet and courant. Mr. Fleisher had the unselfconscious impersonality essential to the reading of such Mozart works as this.

Next we heard the Brahms waltzes, Opus 39. They followed easily after the Mozart with their warmth and melodic qualities.

The artist avoided excessive emphasis on the sentimental qualities of the music. Obvious rhythmic patterns were not over-stressed, but there was plenty of lift and enthusiasm present.

At times the music achieved a feeling of excitement without any harshness of tone.

The most interesting work on the program was the Sonata 958 nuz by Leon Kirchner. It has three movements played without pause. After a moody and impressionistic opening it develops with complex rhythmic patterns. The artist showed his strong sense of form, achieving an interpretation that seemed intelligible even to one hearing the work for the first time.

There are various theories of program arrangement. Some would fill the latter part of a concert with light and diverting variety to titillate the listeners' flagging enthusiasm. Others, among whom is Mr. Fleisher, will save some monumental tour de force with which to overwhelm an already weakened audience. The Schubert Sonata in B Flat Major was so well chosen for this purpose that after its final climax died away, only one encore, Beethoven's For Elise was needed to empty the hall. Mr. Fleisher's performance of the Schubert was masterful, but the florid romantic phrases became boring and repetitive. The artist expressed himself with consistent clarity, never yielding to emotional overstatement. Dreamy, nostalgic passages were accomplished without blurring but with great delicacy.

A light and mobile treatment of the appealing melodic passages left one feeling that Schubert was being cooked with plenty of yeast. But it was still Schubert taking a little too long to say something that lost its freshness before the statement was finished. For my taste the best parts of the evening were the Mozart and the Kirchner. I shall hope to hear Mr. Fleisher again.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

This is National Printing Week. People are inclined to glibly say that Gutenberg invented the printing press in 1450 or thereabouts, but we find that nothing is certain about the statement but the date. The Chinese were printing with moveable type about 50 B.C. and the Dutch were doing the same thing almost two decades before 1450. According to Douglas MeMurtrie there are only 30 documents which are authentically attributed to Gutenberg and attest to his life work of printing. In library school we learned that although the times are shrouded in uncertainty, we can be reasonably sure that Gutenberg invented a method of casting type in metal and of perfecting the method of reusing it. He refined the construction of the presses of his day so that they were practical for printing books, and he experimented with various inks to make one suitable for use in book making. For these acts the world owes unending gratitude to this man whose work seems to have netted him little but lawsuits in his early years. Some authorities believe that his declining years were made happier by a pension from the city in which he lived.

A book-about-books which never fails to interest the devoted reader is Douglas McMurtrie's The Book. Author of many books on printing and bookmaking, he first published this particular volume in 1937, and it has been repeatedly re-issued from time to time ever since that date. It is a textbook in many library schools but it has little of the textbook flavor because it is done in an easy reading conversational style and is delightful all the way. For celebrating National Printing Week no better reading could be found than this work.

An earlier book on printing in our library is by Edwin Emerson and is entitled Incunabulum Incunabulorum, the Gutenberg Bible on Vellum in the Vollbehr Collection. This is a small book devoted to the history of the 42 line Bible printed by Gutenberg.

This week we shall start circulation of our first copy of Who Killed Society, by Clevelend Amory. We have so many reserves on it that another copy is on order and should relieve the pressure very soon. The book is concerned with society in the rigid sense of a few years ago, when great houses were run with a first and second butler, two parlor maids, a coachman, a footman, a houseman, and six detectives. There seem to be many answers to the question of who killed society and they are all in the book by that name. One patron handed in a request slip for this book listing the title as Who Shot Society? A great reader of mysteries with a mental carryover here!

There will be 11 or 12 new novels this week and more nonfiction. Don't be fooled by this nice weather—read anyway.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

Starting guns are familiar to most people, but few have heard of a "Stopping gun". It's used in our Defensive Driving course to show how long it takes you to stop your car. That's a "stopping gun" on the bumper of the car in the picture.

The instructor riding in the car pulls a string and fires the "gun" as a signal to the driver to stop as fast as he can. A chalk mark is shot onto the pavement as the gun goes off, and a second mark is made when the brakes are applied.

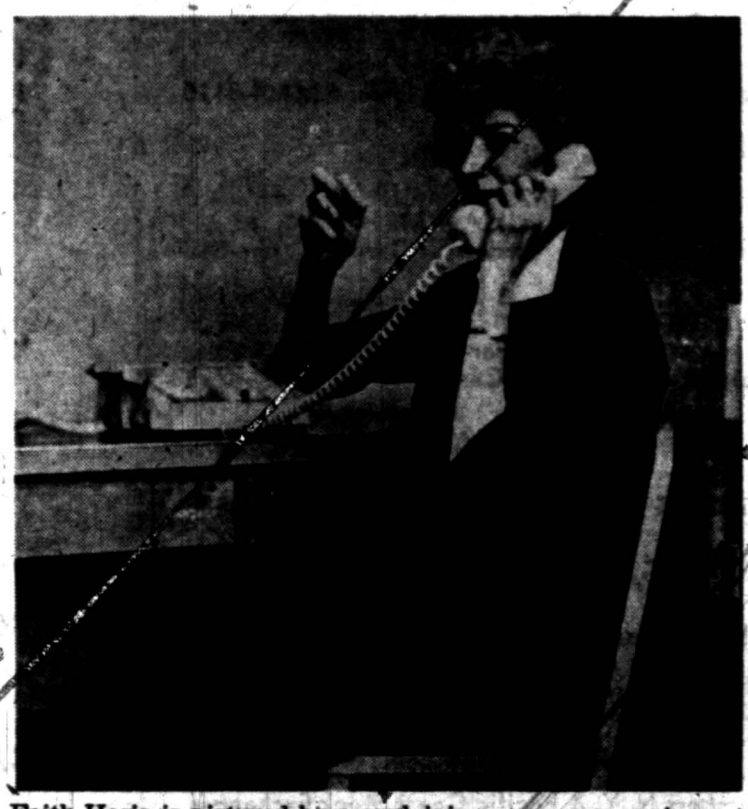

By measuring the distance between the chalk marks, the driver learns how far his car travelled before he reacted to the noise of the gun.

We pay lots of attention to safe driving at the phone company, and we've found just being alert avoids lots of accidents.

Every telephone employee who drives in his work takes a "Defensive Driving" course.

This special training really works. Our drivers have one of the best safety records anywhere.

Instead of attending Inauguration events in Washington, D.C., Mr. and Mrs. Jerome E. Carlson will entertain at a family party in Carmel tomorrow night. Mrs. Carlson is the mother of Pierre Salinger, after tomorrow White House press secretary for President John F. Kennedy.

Displayed in the Carlson living room will be the handsome invitations to the Inauguration, also to the reception in Washington in honor of the Governors of the States, and the ladies' event honoring distinguished women attending the Inauguration. Mrs. Salinger sent "deeply regret" notes on January 4 to Mrs. Oscar Chapman and Mrs. Katie Louggheim for the invitations to the latter parties.

Tomorrow evening Mr. and Mrs. Carlson (Jehanne Salinger Carlson) will have as their guests, two other of Mrs. Carlson's sons and their wives. These sons are Herbert Salinger, Napa high school principal, and George Salinger, a San Francisco businessman. Completing the party will be Mrs. Carlson's niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Zolnik of Stanford University.

Mrs. Carlson's youngest son, Richard, and his wife, Adele, will attend all Inauguration events. They live in Wilton, Connecticut. Mr. Salinger is area chairman in the science department of the Wilton school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson are planning to motor East early in May. They will visit Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and his family in Virginia at that time, then continue to Connecticut to visit Richard Salinger. The two California Salinger brothers also plan to go to Washington this summer and take their families with them, Mrs. Carlson reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kiley (Monika Annette Mayes) cut their wedding cake before leaving on a honeymoon trip to Winter Park Ski Lodge, Colorado. They were married just before Christmas in Lawrence, Kansas, where they are now living and Mr. Kiley is a speech and journalism instructor at the University of Kansas. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tanous of Carmel, attended the marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Victoria Mayes of Kansas City and Dr. Martin Mayes of Washington, D. C. She will receive a master's degree in English literature from the University of Kansas in June.

The wedding took place in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church which was decorated with garlands of greenery and lighted by candles. Tall candelabra holding white tapers framed the altar on which stood a fanshaped arrangement of white crysanthemums and gladioli. The Reverend Earle B. Jewell performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of petal-white faille had a chantilly lace basque bodice with a portrait neckline edged in iridescent sequins and long tapering sleeves that ended in a point over each hand. The voluminous hoop styled skirt of the dress lengthened into an aisle-wide train and was embroidered with scattered lace flower appliques outlined in sequins. Her fingertip veil of imported tulle cascaded from a pearl and lace crown and she carried a bouquet of white roses surrounding lilies of the valley.

Renate Mayes was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mary Ann Harris and Susanne Bird. They were dressed alike in Dior ballerina gowns of emerald satin fashioned with scoop necklines, bracelet length sleeves, fitted bodices and bouffant skirts trimmed in back with bustle bows. Their shoes and Dior bow hats matched their dresses and their bouquets were arrangements of white carnations and red holly berries. Laura Knickerbocker was the flower girl.

Dr. Bruce A. Linton was best man for the groom. Groomsmen were Roger Stanton and James Dalton. Ushers were Robert Moberly and Douglas Kilgore.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the Walnut Room of Twin Oaks which was decorated with white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Mrs. Mayes, the bride's mother, received the 300 guests wearing a satin brocade costume suit in a muted green shade, matching accessories and a corsage of cocoa brown cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Tanous attended her son's marriage in an oyster white antique satin gown, designed by Cooper of California, harmonizing soft cocoa brown accessories and cymbidium orchid corsage.

For traveling the bride changed to a royal blue wool suit, matching accessories and corsage of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The evening before the wedding, the bridegroom's parents entertained at a dinner party at Putches, 210 Supper Club, following the wedding rehearsal. Guests were members of the bridal party and friends. White chrysanthemums and holly berries surrounded silver candle holders on the tables. The bridal couple was toasted in champagne and a violinist serenaded them throughout the evening. Santa Claus made a surprise appearance bringing good wishes from Carmel and Boston friends.

Before entering the University of Kansas, where she is affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority, the bride received an A.A. degree from William Woods College and was a member of Phi Theta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Her husband graduated from Carmel High School in 1949. He attended Menlo Junior College before entering Stanford University, then interrupted his studies to serve with the Air Force. He returned to Stanford and obtained both a bachelor's and master's degree in radio and television. In 1957-58 he was a Stanford exchange scholar at the Free University of Berlin and also was granted a Fulbright award to study European theatre. After returning from Germany, he was client service executive in the West coast office of a radio and television audience measurement company. Last year he was appointed instructor in radio and television and a member of the University of Kansas Committee on Radio and Television, selected by the William Allen White School of Journalism and Public Information and the department of speech and drama. In June he and his bride will go to Cornell University, New York, where Mr. Kiley has received a fellowship to complete work for a doctorate.

At the University of Kansas he directs and supervises the student-operated radio and television station on the campus. Previously he did similar work over San Francisco and Santa Barbara stations and worked in theatre, radio and television in various capacities at Stanford.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"What is Truth?" is a vital question to be considered at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Truth" will include this reassuring statement: "I will cry unto God that performeth all things for me. He shall send from heaven, and save me from the reproach of him that would swallow me up. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth" (Psalms 57:2, 3).

The importance of prayer in understanding Truth is emphasized in this citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (11:27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God will bring us into all Truth."

Shaws Favor Maui

Virginia and Will Shaw, after three weeks in Hawaii, have decided that they favor Maui over the other islands they visited, although they were delighted with them all. Hana and Lahaina were their favorite places on Maui but they realize the character of the latter town, once the preferred residence of Hawaiian kings, will change rapidly as soon as the 11 hotels planned for this location are constructed.

The Shaws' survey of the Islands acted as a lure for them to return "some day" with camping equipment for stays in many of the delightful spots they merely glimpsed this time.

The morning they were due to fly home they decided they couldn't leave the Islands without the experience of surfboarding. Three hours before their plane left they were excitedly riding combers.

"And when we arrived home in Carmel, our bathing suits were still wet with Waikiki water," Virginia reports. She was also thrilled with the experience of seeing underwater scenes through a face mask while swimming in other locations and remembered, with pity, "The poor cold skin divers off Reamer's Point."

Legal Secretaries Meet

Twenty-eight persons employed in work of a legal nature throughout Monterey County gathered recently in the Municipal Courtroom of Judge Gordon Campbell in Monterey, for the purpose of establishing a local chapter of Legal Secretaries, Inc. Presiding was Kathryn Wright of Richmond, first vice president of the State organization. The meeting was opened with a welcome address by Judge Campbell.

K. M. Karye of the Law Offices of George R. Walker was elected Temporary Chairman. Kay Toussaint of the County Clerk's office in Salinas and Lillian Owens of Mr. Walker's office were elected Temporary Membership Chairmen for Salinas and the Peninsula respectively. Josephine Fife of the law firm Hudson, Martin, Ferrante and Street was elected Temporary Treasurer. The temporary officers will complete the organization work necessary to apply for a charter. Mrs. Wright stated that if all documents were completed before February 8 she would be in a position to request the Board of Governors to issue it at their quarterly meeting in Laguna Beach on February 18, 1961.

All persons engaged in work of a legal nature are eligible to join. They may get in touch with the above membership chairmen or attend the next meeting on January 18 at 7:00 o'clock at Judge Campbell's Chambers in the Monterey Municipal Court.

Planners Continue Hearing On Gas Station Permit

Carmel planners, yesterday afternoon, continued until next Wednesday afternoon, 5:00 o'clock, consideration of granting a use permit for a Standard Oil Company gas station on Junipero Street in the C-2 zone.

Also on Wednesday commissioners will receive a request for rezoning property in blocks fronting on Monte Verde Street above Sixth Avenue from residential to C-1-L classification.

At yesterday's public hearing on the gas station, James Pruitt spoke in favor of such development at the northwest corner of Junipero and Fourth. Admiral C. W. Fisher, opposed the gas station on the grounds that Carmel had no need of an additional service station. He added he might approve of the station in the proposed location if Standard Oil Company abandoned their present station at Ocean Avenue and San Carlos Street.

Chairman Herbert Blanks requested the commission to continue the matter until their next meeting at which time they will receive a report from the committee studying locations of gas stations in Carmel, at the request of the city council.

Also at yesterday's meeting commissioners reviewed plans for a new commercial building on Ocean Avenue for two shops and five offices. Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Jorgensen propose to demolish the building between Blum's and the Jolly Roger restaurants and replace it with the new development.

Commissioners studied plans for the James Doud two-story restaurant and offices and arcade development on the south side of Ocean Avenue below San Carlos Street; also plans submitted by Robert Little and Dr. Dexter Whitcomb to remodel Carmel Lodge to provide space for June Simpson Restaurant.

Visitors May See World's Highest Priced Pony

Captain Topper, national champion Shetland model stallion, may be seen this weekend between the hours of 11:00 o'clock in the morning and 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, according to Patricia Burton, the pony's owner, who maintains Los Estables del Retiro on Ondulado Road in Pebble Beach.

Miss Burton bought Captain Topper last May in Gainesville, Texas. She paid $56,500, the record world's price paid by an individual for a Shetland pony. In addition to Captain Topper, her stable includes nine other Shetland ponies.

The four-year-old national champion pony, 42 inches high, now is retired to stud after winning awards in competition with over 1,000 stallions during a two-year period in the show ring, Miss Burton states.

She brought him to California, after recognizing the potential in this state for Shetland ponies. They are exhibited in shows in hand or fine harness, she points out. In fine harness the ponies, driven by women, draw Viceroy carriages or roadsters. Ponies are also exhibited by little girls wearing voluminous-skirted dresses and formally attired boys in top hats. Shetlands are not shown under saddle, Miss Burton stresses.

She retired in June from the position of executive vice president of the Fred Burton Abstract Company, a firm founded by her father in Detroit. Her grandfather, who donated the Burton Historical Collection to the Detroit Library, established the Burton Abstract and Title Company. Following her retirement the two Detroit firms merged.

Besides the pony stables in Pebble Beach, Miss Burton owns farms in Michigan and Virginia. Her purchase of Captain Topper attracted wide interest. Until then she was practically unknown in pony circles, but is now recognized as the owner of one of the finest Shetland pony breeding stables in the world.

Her stables may be reached by turning right on the road marked "To the Stables" near Del Monte Lodge, then following this turn for two blocks.

Miss Burton extends a special invitation to visit Captain Topper to persons here this weekend for the Crosby Tournament.

Orley Holm

Orley Ashley Holm, a resident of Carmel for the past 37 years, died on Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital where he had been a patient for the past two months.

Mr. Holm was born in Los Banos on July 20, 1894. He operated Holm's Auto Service in Carmel for many years. He was a World War I veteran and a member of the Carmel American Legion Post No. 512 and Salinas Lodge No. 204, F. & A. M.

He is survived by his wife, Florinda C. Holm of Carmel; two daughters, Mrs. Alyce Whitcomb of Carmel and Mrs. Dorothy Olson of San Luis Obispo; a son, Orley R. Holm of Belvedere; three brothers, George Holm of Salinas, Charles Holm of Watsonville and Howard Holm of Richmond; two sisters including Mrs. Rose Hunn, former Salinas resident; and four grandchildren, Jill, Lonnie and Kim Whitcomb of Carmel and Matthew Olson of San Luis Obispo.

Funeral services will be held on Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock in the Paul Mortuary Chapel under the auspices of the Carmel American Legion Post. Military rites will follow at Mission Memorial Park where interment will be in the Masonic section.

Mary McIntire

Miss Mary Margaret McIntire died on Tuesday evening at the home of a friend, Mrs. Harvey Russell, Santa Lucia Street, who had been taking care of her following recent hospitalization.

Miss McIntire was born on January 7, 1883, in Cherry Fort, Ohio. She attended school in Lima, Ohio, before moving to Detroit, Michigan, where she lived for 50 years. During this time she was employed by Hudson Motor Car Company and active in the musical life of the city.

She came to California in 1944 and lived in Beverly Hills for two years before moving to Carmel. Her home was at Ninth Avenue and Carmelo Street. She was associated with Denslow gift shop here for many years.

Miss McIntire was a past chaplain of Commodore Sloat chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and treasurer of this organization at the time of her death. She was treasurer of the Monterey County Hammond Organ Society for many years and also a member of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, the Monterey County Symphony Guild, and the Carmel Woman's Club.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. George Lippincott of Glendora and two brothers, K. R. McIntire of Detroit, Michigan and C. C. McIntire of Chicago, Illinois.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced later by Paul Mortuary.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mis McIntire may do so in the form of donations to charities of their choice.

Poetry Contest For Primary Grades On Nature Subject

The National Audubon Society announces a Nature Poetry Contest for Monterey County grammar school students, grades four through eight. Entrants may submit an original poem of not less than eight lines describing a personal or creative experience with any form of Nature. The contest is open to both public and private school students.

Entries will be judged in two groups. The first group will include poems by fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils. The second group will contain poems by seventh and eighth graders. First, second and third place winners will be chosen in each group.

The three winners in each group will be the invited guests of the National Audubon Society Convention at Asilomar on March 26, for luncheon and the afternoon program. The six winning poems will be presented to the convention at this time.

Entries must be written in ink or typed. The student's name, grade and school must be enclosed with the poem. Entries must be mailed, on or before February 1, to the National Audubon Society Contest, 93 Via Ventura, Monterey.

Winners will be informed by the Society on March 7, California Bird and Arbor Day. Judges will be Mrs. Louis Mayer (Dora Hagemeyer), Miss Irene Alexander and Edwin Coffin.

February 1 is also the deadline for submitting material for the high school poetry contest, sponsored by the Arena Blanca Poets and the Pine Cone, to Mrs. Olivia Young, 517 Crocker Avenue, Pacific Grove. Further information may be obtained from January 12 issue of the Pine Cone or from Mrs. Young.

Public Invited To Arnason's Concert At Stevenson School

The Robert Louis Stevenson School of Pebble Beach invites the public to a piano recital by Calvin Arnason in Douglas Hall at the school on Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock. There is no admission charge.

Calvin's program will be as follows: Partita in B Flat Major by Bach, Impromptu in A Flat, Opus 90 and Impromptu in E Flat, Opus 90 by Schubert, and three compositions by Chopin—Fantasie Impromptu, Polonaise Militaire and Scherzo in B Flat Minor.

Calvin is thirteen years old, of Icelandic extraction. He lives in Millbrae, has studied piano about six years, the four last under Robert Vetlesen. Last year he won a scholarship in the competition held by the Pacific Musical Society (which sponsored Yehudi Menuhim when he was a boy.) Recent concerts were given by Calvin in Salt Lake City, Utah, and Madison, Wisconsin. He has been much in demand to play for music-teacher groups in Monterey and San Mateo.

This summer Calvin will attend the Honolulu Music Camp and will give a concert in Honolulu. Also he will make appearances in Moses Lake, Spokane, Wenatchee, and Seattle, Washington. Calvin is one of six children. He is in his first year of high school, with science and mathematics as favorite subjects.

Planning Commission Says "No" To Neumann Petition For Rezoning

this group, since its establishment two and a half years ago, has consistently opposed any expansion of the business district. He added that there was no guarantee that the Neumann property, reclassified for apartment use, might not at some future time be developed in less desirable commercial use. He urged the commission not to rezone one piece of property alone.

Conrad Imelman pointed out parking and traffic problems that might arise if the Neumann block were rezoned.

Mrs. Jensen stated that she had signed Mr. Neumann's petition circulated among property owners in the area affected by the rezoning. However, she asked commissioners to restrict any rezoning to apartment use. She said there was a need for apartments in Carmel for older residents.

Mrs. McCarthy stated she had instigated the petition signed by property owners who wished to remove their names from the list circulated by Mr. Neumann. She said that these persons had not fully understood the implications of the rezoning when they signed the petition favoring the apartment use of the Neumann land.

Miss James cited the traffic problem apartments in this area might cause. She also pointed out the danger of future undesirable motel or hotel use of the land.

Herbert Heron, a resident of Carmel for 52 years, told the planning commission it was their moral duty to preserve as nearly as possible the village character of Carmel. He prophesied that if the Neumann land were reclassified there would be many more requests for the same type of rezoning in the area. "I urge you with all sincerity and with all my power to say no," he concluded.

Mr. Walker opposed any intrusion of the business zone into the residence area and pointed out that reclassifying the Neumann land would set a precedent for a number of similar requests. Mr. Sassoon supported Mr. Walker's statement about setting a precedent.

Mr. Crumrine said that if the Neumann land were developed in apartment use, apartments would spread over the residence district."

Mr. Pruitt implied that if commissioners rezoned residential property to commercial use there would be "Nothing but trouble."

Building Inspector Floyd Adams, at the request of Chairman Blanks, outlined the history of the nonconforming use of the Neumann property. He stated that a survey he had made of business property now available for apartment use showed 52 owners of land that could legally be developed in this use preferred to keep their land in single family residential use. He did not include vacant lots in this survey, he added, and concluded by saying that apartments were not a good investment in Carmel, in his opinion.

Mr. Adams also showed that under present zoning the Neumann property, if subdivided into three legal building sites, with a residence on each site, could accommodate 12 paying guests if occupants of each house obtained rooming house licenses.

He lated stated that if the Neumann property were, for a period of six months not used to accommodate transient guests, the present permitted nonconforming use would lapse and could not be reestablished.

Commissioner Florence Josselyn questioned the building inspector's assumption that Neumann has a non-conforming use. A long time resident she can recall when the property was in residential use, she said.

ments, Mr. Leavitt says.

Dr. Weigle arrived on the Peninsula again on Tuesday. He is surveying possible sites for a second St. John's College in California and other states on this trip, in addition to the Gibson Canyon site.

On February 22 the governing board of St. John's College will meet and it is presumed give definite approval to a second campus site.

Mr. Leavitt states that for about a year a committee composed of local persons interested in education, and possible establishment of a four-year college on the Peninsula, has been in the process of being organized by him, Robert Kaller and Roderick Dewar. Members of this committeee will be announced in two week's time, Mr. Leavitt promises.

The group, will work with Robert M. Hutchins, former chancellor of the University of Chicago, now president of the Fund For the Republic. This latter organization, with headquarters in Santa Barbara, was established by the Ford Foundation for research and publication of problems of American government by a group of scholars.

Dr. Mortimer Adler, director of the Institute for Philosophical Research in San Francisco, and Scott Buchanan, the first Dean of St. John's College under the Great Books program and now a member of the Fund for the Republic organization, also will work with the local committee, Mr. Leavitt reports.

The proposed St. John's College campus site in the Highlands is 140 acres mostly on the north slope of Gibson Canyon. The property may be approached off Corona Road, also through an easement over the T. F. Riley Ranch at Point Lobos and by a right of way to Highway One along the floor of steep and wooded Gibson Canyon.

Mr. Leavitt remarks that although a playing field will be included in campus plans, no athletic program involving competition with other colleges is sanctioned by St. John's College which also bans fraternities and sororities. Dormitories for both men and women students, 200-300 in all, will be necessary, he estimates.

Referring to the preservation of the natural beauty and flora of the site, Mr. Leavitt states that St. John's College campus at Annapolis is situated on 69 acres. This area is considered sufficient for the college which has been in existence since 1696.

The project will be financed by contributions, according to Mr. Leavitt, who adds that if enough local financial support is forthcoming, it will be feasible to begin development sooner than if financial support comes only from outside this community.
